Karinya House Overview

Karinya House is a community based, not for profit organisation servicing the ACT and surrounding regions. Since 1997, Karinya House has provided immediate support for women who are pregnant or have new babies and have nowhere else to turn.

As a twenty-four hour, seven day a week service, Karinya House is the only service specifically for pregnant and parenting women in the region, offering residential as well as outreach case management and support.

Karinya House recognises and acknowledges the unique lived experiences of women as they navigate building a future for themselves. Our practice framework is focused on developing a sense of hope and belonging, to effect lasting positive change in the lives of the women in contact with Karinya House.

By providing a framework of care that encompasses the whole person, practitioners walk alongside women as they develop their capacity to represent themselves and to make informed choices about their own lives. The Karinya House Practice Framework is founded within the principals of trauma informed care and practice. Individual casework management and flexibility in service provision are paramount at Karinya House.

Karinya is a non-religious, non-government and non-judgmental organisation.

Position Function

A Caseworker, under the broad direction of the Chief Executive Officer, provides direct support to women and their babies/families through an individualized and flexible case management plan. A Caseworker builds a working relationship with the women she works with and creates a non-judgmental space of trust and safety within which women can commence addressing their needs and goals.

The role of the Caseworker - Aboriginal Identified is to provide a culturally responsive perspective to the work of the Karinya House casework team, and to work directly with pregnant or parenting women who identify as Aboriginal or Torres Strait Islander.

The caseworker may also be required to work with a range of women and families, including those who do not identify as Aboriginal or Torres Strait Islander.

A caseworker works to foster and progress the Vision and Core Purpose, of Karinya House, through the implementation of the Karinya House Practice Framework. An ability to work compassionately with pregnant and parenting women and families with complex needs and promote their empowerment and independence is an essential requirement of this position.
